

Cabinet Rules Self Out; Calls on Assembly

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Another showdown over Katanga secession loomed today after refusal by the provincial cabinet to act on President Moise's agreement with the central Congo government.

The Katanga cabinet declared itself incompetent to authorize Tshombe's agreement with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula after listening today to a report on their meeting at the U.N. base at Kitona. A communiqué said it had "decided to put it (ratification of the accord) before the National Assembly—the sole valid authority on such matters."

The action led observers in Elisabethville to speculate that it may be the initial step in the ultimate rejection of the pact by the Katanga regime.

Majority sentiment of the Katanga Assembly remains to be determined, most of the assemblymen having faded into the countryside with the fall of the capital to U.N. forces during the undeclared two-week war.

Tshombe asserted that Assembly ratification would take at least 10 days.

Adoula served an ultimatum that the Leopoldville government would take measures to force compliance with the agreement if it was not honored. Both Adoula and the United Nations maintain that Tshombe's signature binds Katanga to the agreement and that ratification is not necessary.

U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche, who accepted the signed pact from Tshombe at Kitona, still upon his return to New York that he felt the Katanga leader acted in good faith and that the agreement would lead to peace in the Congo.

Meanwhile, four tribal leaders, who accepted the signed pact, reported that white officers had led Katanga troops in a massacre of African families hostile to the Tshombe regime. The reports claimed that the raiders killed victims indiscriminately in and around the Elisabethville area.

Confirmation of the reports was lacking and there was no explanation of how the Katanga troops—most of whom were reported to have fled into the bush following collapse of their resistance in Elisabethville—could have carried out a massacre with 6,000 U.N. troops occupying the city.

Accuses U. S. of Congo Interference

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union today accused the United States of interfering in Congo peace negotiations to save President Moise Tshombe's position in Katanga.

Valerian A. Zorin, chief Soviet U.N. delegate, told a news conference that the talks between Tshombe and Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula at Kitona this week were organized by U.S. Ambassador Edmund A. Gullion and he "gave instructions" to U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, who is a U.S. citizen.

Zorin charged this amounted to "direct interference" by the United States "to save the head of that movement directed against all U.N. decisions—Tshombe."

Shopping day to Christmas

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL OF YOU!

THIS WINTER—Strictly unofficially, the U.S. Weather Bureau is experimenting with 90-day forecasts. Usually, they're only made for the next 30 days. Sketch above shows how this winter may—repeat, may—shape up, if the elves who control the weather don't play any tricks. It will be a hard winter west of the Continental Divide down through West Texas. Above normal temperatures will prevail over most of the eastern half of the country. In between there will be nothing unusual. Precipitation will also be much heavier in the west, particularly along the coast. It will be heavy in the southern and central plains up through the lake region, below normal south of Pennsylvania and east of the Appalachians, also in northwest away from coast. Rest of country will be normal.

U. S. Charges GE Price Fix Violations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department, saying the General Electric Co. has been a persistent antitrust law violator, Friday asked for court orders forbidding the firm from fixing prices in every field of its operations.

The department, announcing the filing of a suit in federal court in Philadelphia, said it was an action expanding a case filed Feb. 16, 1960.

The original case asked for prohibitive orders covering 18 heavy electrical equipment fields. The new action asked the court to include everything General Electric makes, ranging from light bulbs to washing machines.

The amended complaint cited what it termed "General Electric's proclivity for persistent and frequent involvement in antitrust violations and the scope, nature and breadth of its long, continued, willful conspiratorial activities in the heavy electrical equipment industry."

This record, the complaint said, requires broad court orders "to prevent similar recurrence of similar offenses by General Electric in the numerous other industries in which it is engaged."

General Electric was one of 29 electrical equipment manufacturing firms convicted last year of conspiring to fix prices. Fines totaling some $2 million were levied on the firms, and some individual officers of the firms were jailed.

Invitation by Telephone

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Jim Barnes, 13, of Nashville, Tenn., received his invitation to a friend's party by way of a phone call from employees of the North Carolina Department of Administration.

The invitation to the party being given Saturday night by George Shotwell, 13, of Nashville, got lost in the Christmas mail. Noah Sites, an employee of the Department of Administration, received it along with a Christmas card from Nashville.

Sites first thought he'd send the invitation by mail, but he feared it wouldn't reach Nashville in time. So he and fellow workers chipped in Thursday for a long distance phone call to invite Jim to George's party.

Auto Overtakes Man Is Killed

PARIS, Ark. (AP) — Funeral home employee William Rice, answering a call to an accident, found his brother-in-law dead early today.

The brother-in-law, Roy Jones Jr., 29, of Charleston, Ark., had been killed when his automobile overtook several times on Highway 22, about 12 miles west of Paris.

No one else was in the automobile.

Rice also lives in Charleston and is employed by a funeral home there.

Deliveries by Postmen Heavy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department said proudly today that its blue-clad Santas are carrying out the largest, most successful delivery of Christmas mail in history.

In the first 20 days of December, 9.5 billion pieces of mail passed through their hands.

This was 5.7 per cent more than last year and receipts were up about $5 million to $172.1 million.

The total incoming and outgoing mail handled for the Christmas season should easily exceed 11 billion pieces, the department said.

Thinks U. S. Must Resume Atom Testing

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in their first five-hour talk here may have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the United States must soon resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

Macmillan's spokesman told newsmen that "the President and the prime minister heard a presentation by their experts on the subject of the recent Soviet tests."

It was asked whether the discussion included the possibility of resumption of tests in the atmosphere. He declined to "go into the substance of the discussion." And White House press secretary Pierre Salinger quickly added that the discussion "centered on the report from nuclear experts of both governments on the recent Soviet tests."

Salinger was asked if the President requested these reports so he could make a judgment on what policy the United States would pursue. Salinger replied the President's statements on the whole question were clear and still stand.

The tenor of the President's statements in recent weeks on testing has been that it might be necessary to resume above-ground tests in the interest of national security.

A decision to resume testing might be a difficult message for Macmillan to bring home to fall-out-fearful Britain and Europe. It may be one of those hard decisions which is broken to the world public gradually.

On Berlin, too, there are apparent differences. Macmillan's spokesman said there was complete agreement there also, but Salinger qualified this by saying the agreement was on "the subjects discussed which are steps which can be taken in this particular field."

The two leaders, through their foreign ministers, already had agreed that the next step would be probing talks by their ambassadors in Moscow to determine what basis might be found for formal negotiation with the Soviets on Berlin.

But there was no indication that they had agreed on possible steps after that.

Reservists in Navy Out by June?

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Naval reservists called to active duty this fall are scheduled for release from active duty "as soon after June 1 as possible," the officer in charge of naval officer procurement in Virginia said today.

Lt. Oscar W. Ellis said he was authorized by telephone from Washington to make the announcement in connection with an increased quota for naval officer candidates.

The quota of candidates for Virginia is being increased from 12 to 42 effective with the class commencing in February.

Ellis said original plans called for the activated reservists to be returned to civilian status with their ships. The increased call for officer candidates, he said, means the ships probably will be retained as fleet units while the reservists are released.

This Car Found A Parking Space

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Clarence White left her car engine running while she hurried into a store for a bit of Christmas shopping today.

While she was inside she saw the car begin to back away. She chased it 250 feet past two parked cars, until it backed itself into a private driveway—without bumping even a fender. She said she apparently left it in gear.

Blizzard Howls Thru Midwest; Stops Traffic

A crippling blizzard howled across the Midwest into Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin today, whipping up six-foot drifts that blocked roads and stranded thousands of holiday travelers.

The storm, which struck on the first day of winter, was so violent in parts of southern Iowa and northern Missouri that snowplows were pulled off the roads for several hours. Hotels and motels were jammed with stranded motorists.

Snow whipped by winds up to 45 miles per hour piled up the eaves of houses in Des Moines where traffic was paralyzed. Airports were closed and power telephone lines felled.

Another storm, which had nearly blown itself out during a three-day rampage in Utah and Montana, pushed across the Northern Plains with renewed fury. Blasts of cold arctic air gave it new punch as it sent temperatures skidding below zero in the Dakotas and Minnesota. Readings during the night included -9 at Minot and Bismarck, N.D.

Both storms wheeled eastward toward the Great Lakes and Ohio valley, assuring a vast central region of a cold, white Christmas.

The new blizzard in the Midwest dealt a surprise blow Friday to Kansas and Missouri, dumping up to 10 inches of new snow in some sections. The storm was originally forecast as rain, possibly changing to snow. Buses were stalled at Faucet, Gower and Maryville, Mo., by drifting snow.

Most of the roads in northwest Missouri north of St. Joseph were blocked at one time Friday night.

Blowing snow stranded 125 school children in Tarkio, Mo., where 8 inches was measured. More than 25 school buses were unable to reach their rural destinations in southern and central Iowa even though many schools let out early.

Packed snow made driving hazardous in most of the storm area where roads were passable. Parts of Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas were glazed with ice that formed when drizzle was frozen by icy blasts.

Buses and trains, loaded with homeward bound travelers, were running hours behind schedule in the storm areas. The job of clearing highways was hampered by stalled vehicles.

The snow belt extended into the eastern Great Lakes and southward into the Ohio Valley, where it was mixed with freezing rain. Rain drenched parts of the Northwest, changing to snow in the mountains.

Mostly fair weather prevailed over the rest of the nation with temperatures along the West Coast ranging from the 30s in the north to the 60s in southern California. The line of freezing temperatures extended as far south as Texas and eastward across the southern Appalachians.

President's Father Out of Danger

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A medical authority said today physicians no longer fear for the life of Joseph P. Kennedy. But they are doubtful about the degree of his recovery from the effects of a stroke suffered last Tuesday.

It was the first time there was any authoritative prediction that the 73-year-old father of the President would survive the attack which felled him on a golf course Tuesday.

An authoritative source close to the case told newsmen that the former ambassador to Great Britain is out of immediate danger of death but remains paralyzed on the right side. He said Kennedy can recognize visitors.

The source added that the patient attempts speech but can not articulate clearly.

The authority said the longer the paralysis continues, the less chance there is that it will disappear entirely. Full recovery from such attacks usually is well under way in 24 to 48 hours, he explained. The fact that it is now more than 72 hours since the attack, with little improvement shown, makes full recovery very doubtful, he added.

However, an old friend, Richard Cardinal Cushing, said after a visit with Kennedy today that the patient had spoken to him and was very much improved.

Paralyzed Girl Has Christmas

WORTHINGTON, Minn. (AP) — A girl, paralyzed except for her eyes, today had the Christmas present she asked for with her eyes—a shiny, new bicycle.

Doctors said it was very doubtful that Lori House, 4, would ever recover and be able to ride the bike.

Lori has a brain tumor.

The girl, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Mel House of Sioux Valley, Minn., can't move or even smile. But she rolls her eyes up and down to say "yes," and sideways for "no."

One day recently, she was listening to a radio broadcast in which Santa Claus read letters from children. A bicycle was mentioned, and hospital attendants noticed Lori's eyes moved up and down. They questioned Lori and she said with her eyes, that she wanted a bike for Christmas.

Student nurses held a party in Lori's room Thursday and a hardware dealer donated a bicycle.

The nurses say Lori's glance hardly strays from the bright blue and white bike standing near the bed.

Russia Plans to Continue Use of Veto

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union served notice today that it will use its veto whenever necessary to prevent any action which might assist colonial powers in holding their territory.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin told a news conference his country not only supports India's seizure of the Portuguese territories on the Indian subcontinent but that it would back any other action to aid the liberation of dependent peoples.

Zorin ranged over the field of international affairs, accusing the United States of interfering in Congo peace talks and of trying to paint a gloomy picture of the United Nations' future because the Western powers could no longer control it.

Being Home for Christmas Is Best But for Those Away Home Is Where the Heart Is

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Now, more than ever, it is the desire of the majority to "be home." "For Christmas," you know.

Many in the world will not be fortunate enough to be there, for "home is where the heart is" and that is something far away. Others who are home this year remember when they were not so lucky. Other times, other lands, other people, other circumstances are always easier to adjust to than at this season of the year.

This is the time we search most for the familiar, from old and loving decorations to traditional dishes of food. In writing of Christmas, Sir Walter Scott spoke of "The dearest things I know in all the earth; Home, and the loved ones, friendship, song, and mirth."

But did you ever realize that the one whom Christmas honors was not at home on his "day" that we celebrate? For that matter, he was not even in a house, much less a home. It was a far cry from what the modern population knows as a supercolossal, spectacular entrance, though it was the most important birth the world has ever known.

This very simplicity disarms us and touches our hearts. For Christmas speaks to us of infinite peace and quiet joy. It dissolves our pride and humbles our minds. It gives us a sense of wonder and awe so greatly needed in these times. It cleanses our spirits of unclean things, because it ushers us into the presence of the holy.

Christmas is the story of God's fullest and deepest and clearest revelation of himself to man. Christmas unites us in the quest for all that is good and beautiful and true. Neither color, nor culture, nor capability separates us in this eternal search.

We miss the point of this day if we fail to understand that it is, most of all, a deeply personal experience. Unless Peace on Earth is born first in our hearts, it cannot truly be born in the world. However, there is one thing better than the observance of Christmas. That is keeping Christmas.

There will always be a Christmas with the lovely start of happiness and hope, no matter where we are. But if you are "home for Christmas," it makes everything better.

Adlai Finds Backing That UN Will Win

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A neutralist and a Latin-American U.N. delegate concurred today in Adlai Stevenson's belief that the United Nations will survive despite the life-and-death issues that tested it this year.

Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the world organization, told a news conference Thursday the 104-nation body would win the struggle for existence even though many claimed it was in its death throes and he himself had warned it had taken a turn that could lead to its destruction.

The Soviet Union's diagnosis of the U.N.'s chances was expected today when Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin meets newsmen to give his appraisal of the 16th General Assembly, which recessed for Christmas Thursday.

Stevenson noted that when the 16th assembly met last September, a host of life-and-death issues faced it.

"On every one, we have today... a result better than we dared to predict," he declared.

The crucial problems, he said, had included the job of replacing the late Dag Hammarskjöld as secretary-general, the China seating question, the financial crisis which threatened to bankrupt the U.N. and the Congo problem.

The first three have been solved for the time being at least, he noted.

"The news from the Congo," he added, "is a fresh reminder of the durability of the United Nations."

Stevenson emphasized again he was disturbed by the support Asian and African nations gave India's use of force against Portuguese Goa. Such an attitude, he told the Security Council Monday night, "can only lead to chaos and the disintegration of the United Nations."

He charged that the Soviet Union had tried to pit the large Asian-African group against the West but said this had not succeeded.

Stevenson's view of the U.N.'s durability was shared by the Asian neutralist and Latin-American delegates, both of whom asked not to be named.

"They said the U.N. was wrecked on the problem of the secretary-general and then on the Congo, and now they say it on Goa," said the Asian diplomat. "I don't think so. The organization has even grown with each of these crises."

The Latin-American said: "The new nations have gotten new ideas into the stream of international debate."

"This was a good thing, he said, and should not do the U.N. any harm."

Two New Probes Fired in Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has successfully fired two new scientific probes to study behavior of electrons in the ionosphere by day and night, the agency said today.

Both rockets with instrument payloads were launched from Wallops Island, Va., Thursday. One Nike-Cajon vehicle took 80 minutes of instruments 62 miles up during the afternoon, and a modified Aeromoon was launched at a similar Thursday after what he described package 227 miles into space as a "routine" call on Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, fell into the Atlantic after accomplishment.

"I take this opportunity to give plishing their mission, NASA said. The experiment is under direction of the University of Michigan, which will analyze the data.

Would Like to See Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov says he hopes the new year will bring a settlement of "most, if not all" of the problems between East and West.

The ambassador was in a jovial mood as he spoke with newsmen Thursday after what he described as a "routine" call on Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, fell into the Atlantic after accomplishment.

"I take this opportunity to give plishing their mission, NASA said. The experiment is under direction of the University of Michigan, which will analyze the data.

U.S. Will Take Lead in Berlin Negotiations

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — In about one week, orders will go to the U.S. ambassador in Moscow to take the lead in a new U.S.-British effort to promote East-West negotiations in Berlin.

Some months hence, the United States may announce, with Britain's backing, the resumption of nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

These were highlights emerging from the two-day Bermuda meeting between President Kennedy and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that ended Friday.

While Macmillan returned to London with his top aides, Kennedy went to Palm Beach, Fla. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, headed for Washington to work on the agreed diplomatic moves. Kennedy and Macmillan were reported to be pleased with the results of their fourth meeting, a relaxed get-together at Bermuda's Government House. Both were said to have found much to concur in and little to disagree over.

Kennedy was described as convinced the United States could take positive steps toward easing East-West tensions without disrupting the Atlantic alliance.

Macmillan was portrayed as hopeful that progress toward a peaceful solution of the Berlin situation would soon be made.

A 600-word communique from authoritative sources at the conclusion of the talks underscored the following points.

Kennedy and Macmillan agreed that the U.S. ambassador to Moscow, Llewellyn Thompson, will meet first in approaching Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko "to ascertain whether a reasonable basis for negotiation can be found." Thompson is slated to get his instructions late next week or early the following week.

Britain's ambassador to Russia, Frank Roberts, will follow Thompson in "whatever part might be found helpful."

President Charles de Gaulle of France, who has held out against negotiations now, is to be kept informed and consulted—not ignored.

Kennedy and Macmillan agreed that because of Russia's "massive" resumption of nuclear testing in the atmosphere, "it is now necessary as a matter of prudent planning that preparations should be made for atmospheric testing to maintain the effectiveness" of the West's nuclear power.

The U.S. delegates were happy to win this agreement from Macmillan, who at home faces opposition to the resumption of nuclear testing.

But, Macmillan agreed only to consider a Kennedy request for use of Britain's Christmas Island in the Pacific as a site for explosions, and he gave no assurance Britain would join in any tests.

Macmillan especially was said to feel the United States and Britain can use the prospect of Western resumption of atmospheric tests as a lever to prod the Soviets into a more accommodating attitude on Berlin and other cold war issues.

Light Vote Seen in Texas

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Partisan observers predict a light and possibly inconclusive vote in Saturday's special election to name a successor to the late Sam Rayburn's seat in Congress.

Forecasts from camps of the six candidates put the total at 14,000 to 20,000 votes.

Four candidates style themselves Rayburn-type Democrats. The other two, a Democrat and a Republican, are conservatives. A runoff will be necessary unless one candidate receives a majority.

When Rayburn, former speaker of the House, died Nov. 16, he had represented the 4th Congressional District, embracing seven north-east Texas counties, for 48 years.

Only 216,371 persons live in the district, one of the nation's smallest. It has never elected a Republican congressman.

Candidates identifying themselves as Democrats in the moderate tradition of Rayburn are Ray Roberts, 48, of McKinney; and three Sherman lawyers—R. C. Slagle Jr., 51; David Brown, 41; and Roy G. Baker, 47.

Those calling themselves conservatives are Conner Harrington, 36, a Republican; and Jack Finney, 45. Both are newcomers to politics.

Warns Workers to End Strike

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—National Rejectioners, Inc., told striking union employees today to return to work by Jan. 2 or lose their jobs.

Plant manager Eric L. Sokol, in letters to the workers, said that the company had tried to settle its differences with the United Steelworkers but that no real progress had been made since the strike started several weeks ago.

Representatives of the company and the strikers met Thursday in Little Rock with a federal mediator.

Each side slightly softened its position on a proposed wage increase but they were still far apart.

Sokol said the company would hire permanent replacements for employees who didn't return to work by Jan. 2.

A woman telephoned today that a bomb was in the plant and would go within an hour. No bomb was found and the hour passed without incident.

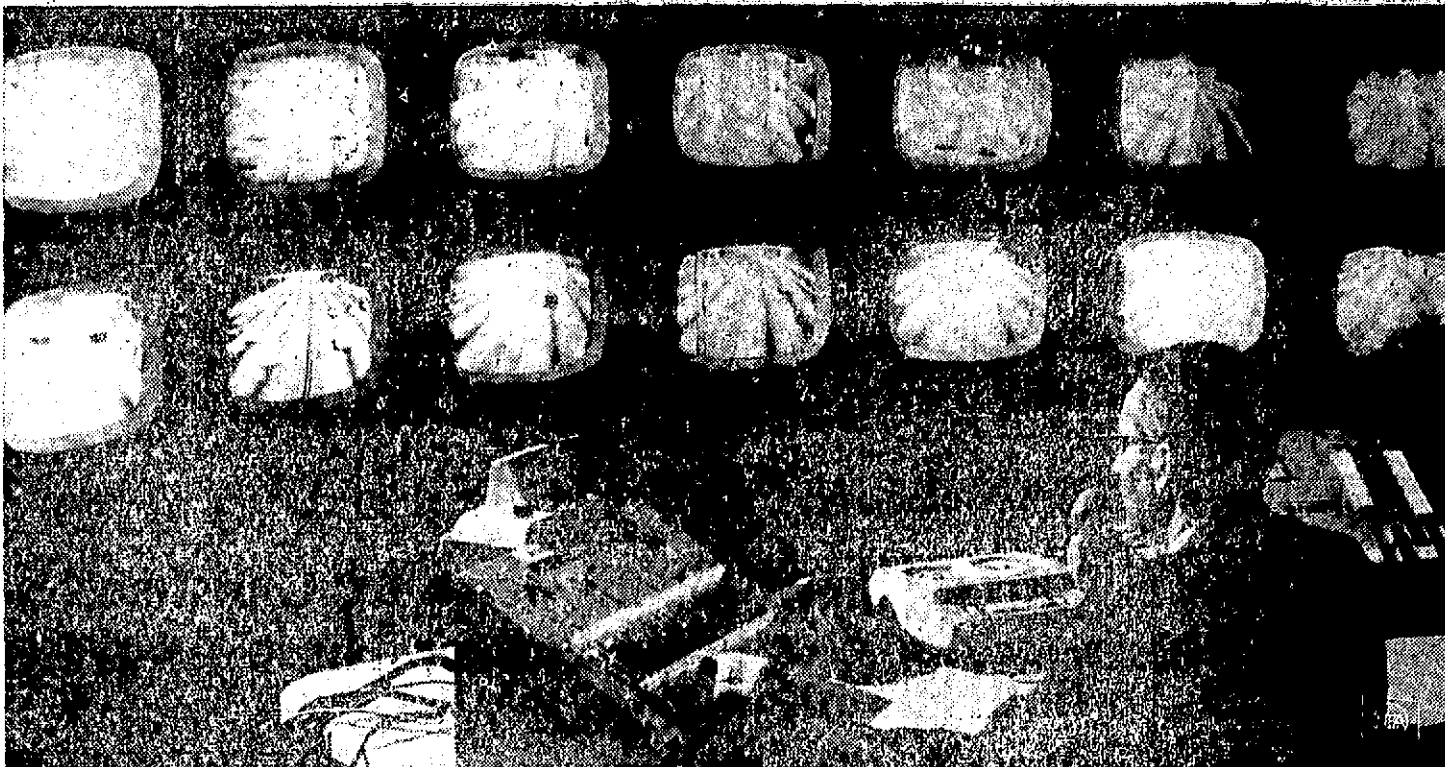

Two Deaths Probed at Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Caddo Parish authorities today probed the deaths of two elderly women in separate accidents. The fatalities occurred five minutes apart in two North Caddo communities.

Mrs. Eunice Ogburn, 72, died Thursday when her trailer house caught fire at Rodessa. Fifteen miles east, Mrs. Sarah Ella Adcock, 78, was electrocuted when she fell across a 12,000 volt power line down in her front yard.

Neighbors said they heard an explosion moments before they saw flames leaping from Mrs. Ogburn's trailer. Her husband, Virgil, had left a short time before the fire. The cause of the first was not determined.

The high-voltage power line snapped, sending a loose wire into the Adcock yard. Mrs. Adcock was attempting to move the wire with a stick when she tripped. The wire had set fire to shrubbery in the yard. Her husband, Willie Adcock, was at the side of the house.

TELEVISION TABS TRAFFIC—With plenty of sets to watch but not much choice of programs, a monitor with the Michigan State Highway Dept. watches traffic along the John C. Lodge Freeway in Detroit. This is the central control room for the nation's first large-scale closed circuit TV and traffic control system for an urban freeway. Fourteen television cameras installed along a three-mile stretch of the freeway allow the operator to see congestion, emergencies and stoppages as they develop and to take immediate corrective measures. The G.E.-built system enables him to reduce speed limits, close lanes and shut off ramps—all from his chair in front of the TV panel.

Colorado Miners Out on Strike

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—More than 240 miners voted today to end a three-day strike at the underground headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command.

The strike halted excavation work on tunnels and other work into a mountain southwest of Colorado Springs.

Proposals to end the walkout were approved Thursday night by officials of the union and the Utah Construction Co.

No details were announced, but a spokesman for Utah Construction, which is conducting the excavation work, said it was agreed the 240 strikers will return to work immediately if the settlement is approved.

Members of Laborer's Union Local 578 walked off their jobs Wednesday on grounds the construction company had unjustly dismissed an employee for violating safety rules.

Lisbon to Reshape Foreign Policies

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Portuguese officials spoke today of a sharp revision in this nation's foreign policies as a result of what they termed "the shameful failure of our allies to help us against the Indian aggression in Goa."

Some predicted Premier Antonio de Salazar would—perhaps under pressure from Portugal's civilian and military leaders—withdraw his country from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Growing bitterness was evident against both Britain and the United States as the Portuguese Cabinet continued its daily emergency

Church Has Barred Stiletto Heels

OXFORD, England (AP)—A Church of England minister today barred stiletto heels from his 11th-century church.

To Open Bids on Bank Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U.S. Engineers will open bids about Jan. 25 on bank stabilization work on the north bank of the Arkansas River near Little Italy, southwest of Conway, they said today. Estimated cost is around $800,000.

Bids will be opened Jan. 30 for stabilization and strengthening of existing work on the river upstream from the Jefferson County bridge at Pine Bluff.

Against Shooting in Labor Fuss

CHICAGO (AP)—Shooting at union organizers is an unfair labor practice, says A. Bruce Hunt, National Labor Relations Board trial examiner.

Hunt ordered Spectator Sports Wear Co., and its owner Earl Spector, 39, to post a sign in the shop saying: "We will not use firearms or other violent means in order to combat our employees' organization efforts."

Spector was arrested last Aug. 25 and charged with firing four shots at a car carrying two union organizers. Neither was hurt.

Hunt's ruling was in favor of Local 743, Warehouse and Mail Order Employees Union. The local won a collective bargaining election at Spector's plant Nov. 27.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy will visit Japan in February.

A six-day visit beginning Feb. 4 is contemplated.

Sees Failure of Trade Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., predicted today that Congress will not pass President Kennedy's broad new trade program in 1962.

Instead, he told a news conference, he expects the present reciprocal trade law to be extended for a year. The law expires next June 30. Kennedy is expected to ask added tariff-cutting powers as part of the extension.

Bush declared, "I don't believe a good case has been made to give the President the broad sweeping powers we've been reading about."

The senator said he expected intense committee consideration and widespread debate on the trade issue in the session starting Jan. 10. But he added he did not think one year was enough to resolve a question "that contains so many pitfalls."

Castro Now an All-Out Commie

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro has warned Cuba that his Communist revolution demands not only a change in institutions but a complete change in the public mentality.

The Cuban prime minister addressed a meeting of schools of revolutionary instruction Thursday night. His talk was not broadcast, but Havana radio carried news reports on it today.

"One of the problems which existed in the first stage of the revolution was that there were people with good intentions but anti-Communist prejudices," Castro was quoted as saying.

"The great advantage we have now is that the original difficulties have been overcome and we have the ability to achieve a completely Marxist revolution."

Alford Not Ready for Decision

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Rep. Dale Alford said here today persons from "several sections of the state" had approached him about running for governor, but "I am not yet ready to announce my decision."

Alford made the remark in a discussion with Newport Rotarians following his talk to the Club Friday.

He would not indicate when the decision on whether to run for governor would be reached.

There has been speculation that Alford would run for governor, especially if Gov. Orval Faubus does not seek a fifth term.

Other speculation has had Alford or Faubus opposing Sen. J. W. Flubright in next year's general election.

Faubus has not announced his political intentions.

U. S. Sailors Hit Rotterdam

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—Nearly 5,000 U.S. Navy men hit Rotterdam today—with half a million in guilders—$128,000—to spend.

All are crewmen from the U.S. antisubmarine flotilla which arrived Thursday on a nine-day operational visit.

The flotilla comprises the aircraft carrier Essex, six destroyers and an oil supply ship.

It has just completed exercises with the British navy in the Atlantic and will remain in Rotterdam until Dec. 30.

Many of the men will attend a party for them tonight. Others will spend Christmas day with their families who have opened their homes in response to newspaper appeals.

Greatest Christmas Gift Is Peace, Family Unity, Philosophizes Hal Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest gift at Christmas time isn't prosperity.

It is peace—and family unity.

No group of our people realizes the more the blessing of Christmas at home than the millions of ex-servicemen who spent Christmas far from home in wartime.

Their minds this time of year turn back to those past times, their half-forgotten ordeals abroad, and their hearts surge with gratitude that they made it home at last. And they remember, with a pang, the fate of those who didn't.

Men are never more desperately lonely than at Christmas time on a battlefield. No matter how strong their faith in their cause, on this day that cause has an air of unreality and illusion.

"Why am I here?" each man asks himself. "Why am I not home? War doesn't make sense."

That timeless query rises in the breasts of thousands of men on both sides of a battlefield. "Why? What am I doing here? What are any of us doing here?"

And their only reply is the growling of distant guns somewhere over the horizon, or the throb of hostile engines in an unfriendly sky.

Life is bittersweet as well as lonely to troops at war on Christmas day. No one wants to have to pull a trigger or launch a bomb.

The men at the actual front drop back in clusters for a hot meal and maybe a religious service. They feel closer to each other than ever—because there is no one else near in that strange land to feel close to.

Unit loyalty has to take the place of family loyalty. The members of a platoon are all brothers—blood brothers. A man's platoon is his whole family.

But as he gulps his scalding coffee he looks around and wonders: "Will he be here tomorrow? Will I be here?"

Sometimes presents from home arrive on Christmas day. They are opened in reverence. A man peers into a battered package, then lifts out broken chunks of dried and crumbling fruit cake and passes them around to his buddies. Everybody shares what he has.

The men who get mail take their letters and walk a little way apart. They want to read them alone. They don't want to show the sudden tears in their eyes.

Sometimes the soldier holding the mail calls out a name twice. "Well, do you want it or don't you?" he demands.

No one answers. No one wants a. Suddenly the soldier understands. He calls out another name as he puts at the bottom of the pile the letter that came for a man who could have read it yesterday, but today is dead to news from home—and will be forever.

On Christmas night, back in the line, the troops lie in their fox-holes and stare up at the stars, and that yearning query again rises inside with a strength that almost chokes them:

"Why?"

Helping their loved ones garland a Christmas tree now, many a man looks back and remembers a Christmas spent in snowy Belgium, or on some stinking Pacific island, or on a frozen ridge in Korea—and thinks a grateful prayer.

Predicts 6 to Die in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Police Capt. Jack Rhea predicted today that six persons will be killed in highway accidents in Arkansas over the long Christmas weekend.

Ike Vacationing in California

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower settled down today to a winter desert vacation expected to include golf, relaxation and a couple of speeches.

Eisenhower looked with pleasure through his rented home here, chatted briefly with newsmen, then adjourned to the adjoining Eldorado Country Club after his name is Fred, but the card says Noel.

A new sign of progress is springing up in the towns participating in the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce's program of "Planned Progress for Arkansas." This sign means that a town is (1) completing an inventory of community needs, (2) formulating a long-range plan of community goals, and (3) following these up with a current program of work which ties in with the long-range goals. Forty towns have already qualified. Has yours?

Area Seems Safe From Flood

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The nearby industrial community of Flowood appeared safe today as the swollen Pearl River continued to fall slowly.
The river rose to a record crest of 37.29 feet Thursday before it began dropping slightly.
Hundreds of flood fighters maintained a watch on the levee system but Mayor Chastain Flynn said it was believed the soggy levees would hold out if there were no unexpected problem.
Elsewhere in Mississippi the floodwaters, which had driven about 3,000 persons from their homes, were falling more rapidly.

U. S. Officer Charged as a Spy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has charged a decorated officer with giving U.S. military information to foreign agents during a visit to Germany last year.
The officer, Capt. Joseph P. Kaufman, 43, has been returned to Germany for investigation.
The foreign power involved was not identified, but it was believed to be a Communist country.
The Air Force said Thursday the investigations now under way will determine if Kaufman, a finance officer who holds the Bronze Star and several other World War II and Korean War decorations, will be tried before a court-martial.
The four alleged violations reported by the Air Force in response to inquiries were:
1. Conspiring with foreign agents to communicate U.S. defense information to a foreign country on or about October 1960.
2. "Wrongly" communicating information relative to the national defense with reason to believe the information would be to the advantage of a foreign nation.
3. Failure to notify his commander of attempts by foreign agents to get him to reveal security information.
4. Falsifying answers to a questioner by "denying that he had been employed by a foreign government or any agency of a foreign government."
The Air Force said the information allegedly handed to foreign agents concerned personnel and installations where Kaufman had been stationed.
Kaufman, a bachelor, was born in Rutland, Vt.

Pope John in Annual Yule Message

By FRANK BRUTTO
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII in his fourth Christmas message Thursday night combined a plea for peace with an appeal for more equitable sharing of the world's wealth.
The 80-year-old pontiff directed his appeals to "the rulers of nations, who today hold in their hands the fate of mankind."
The Vatican Radio today broadcast the annual message of the head of the Roman Catholic Church in scores of languages to all parts of the world, including the Communist East and troubled Africa.
There was hope in the message, but there was anxiety too.
"Shun all thought of force," the pontiff urged world rulers. "Think of the tragedy of initiating a chain reaction of acts, decisions, resentments that could erupt into rash and irreparable deeds."
He expressed a "heartfelt appeal that all those who control the economic forces should risk everything—but not the peace of the world and the lives of men — (and) seek every means that modern progress has put at their disposal to increase the welfare and security of the world."
To mankind as a whole, Pope John said: "All humanity must be good — just, upright, generous, disinterested, willing to understand and to forgive."
He spoke with concern of current world strife where "man is no longer brother, good, merciful and loving to his fellow man, but has become a stranger, calculating, suspicious and selfish."
But the pontiff held out this hope: "We cannot believe that the terrific energy now under the control of man will be released for the world's destruction. For side by side with elements of fear and apprehension, there are positive signs of goodwill that is constructive and productive of good."
has been affected to any great extent.

New Shopping Center Faces Pine Bluff

(Editor's note: The question always arises, when a major suburban shopping center opens in a city, as to what effect the new facilities will have on established businesses. Pine Bluff recently dedicated the $3.5 million Jefferson Square center and Clarence Taylor of the Pine Bluff Commercial staff questioned merchants about its impact.)
By CLARENCE TAYLOR
OF THE PINE BLUFF COMMERCIAL
Written for The Associated Press
PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Opinions vary on the impact of Pine Bluff's $3.5 million Jefferson Square suburban shopping center on the retailing economy of the city.
Bradley Roberts, head of the center's merchants' organization, believes the 21-store merchandise mart is "one of the best things that ever happened to Pine Bluff."
Burt Schlossberg, chairman of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce, doubts that the economy has been extensively affected yet. Other businessmen won't say one way or the other. Still others, who asked that their names not be used, believe the center only sliced the trade dollar a little thinner for everyone.
Roberts, manager of the Gus Blass department store, the center's largest business, said his "best thing that ever happened" statement is based on a belief "that we're stopping thousands of shoppers in Pine Bluff on their way to the big shopping centers (Little Rock and Memphis)."
While Roberts is quite sure some downtown merchants are not happy about the situation, he said he believes the competition is healthy and, within another year's time, the downtowners will be happy because they will begin to see how much the competition has helped their businesses.
Jefferson Square opened Aug. 17 with 19 stores. These included the huge Blass store, a drug store, supermarket, variety store, auto accessory store, restaurant, paint store, drive-in bank branches and others.
Since the formal opening a chain men's clothing store and a jewelry store have started business there.
The jewelry store was opened by a man who for many years has operated a similar business on Main Street. The downtown store still is operating. Because the situation makes Fred Vining at once a downtowner and a center man his comments are of interest.
"We have been doing a nice business at our new store and at the same time there has been no noticeable falling off in business at our downtown store. This indicates to me that establishment of the center must be drawing additional shoppers to Pine Bluff."
Walter Cosby, Manager of the Sears, Roebuck and Co. store, agreed emphatically. The Sears store is nine blocks off Main Street, but it is considered a downtown establishment.
"The center has stimulated buying in Pine Bluff," Cosby said. "It's doing its part to make Pine Bluff the shopping center of southeast Arkansas. It has brought many additional customers to Pine Bluff to trade."
Cosby also agreed with Schlossberg that the competition has "made us downtown merchants sharper — on our toes."
Schlossberg, who has operated a downtown department store for many years, said, "You can say for me that we are glad to have the competition offered by the merchants of Jefferson Square. I think their coming has taught us downtown merchants to be better, more aggressive businessmen and also better informed as to the needs of our customers."
But, Schlossberg added, "I doubt if the retail economy of Pine Bluff negotiations on disarmament and the peaceful exploration of outer space.

HOURS TO KILL

By URSULA CURTISS

Chapter XXXVI

She woke in the night; she had known that she would. Mrs. Snaith was asleep in the other bed, a comforting bulk with curls on top. Safety could exude itself as strongly as danger, and the house was quiet and dark and secure.
How very icily clear Cornelia's voice had been for someone drugged.
How incredibly arrogant of Philip to have underestimated Cornelia's instinct for self-preservation. She had not been diabetic like his first wife, nor been weakened by rheumatic fever like his second wife. He had been foolish to think Cornelia would not question continued signs that made her mistrust Philip, at least enough not to take chances until she had proof. Well, she had her proof when she managed somehow to switch the glasses so that Philip drank the lethal cocktail he had made for her.
If he had gone to the trouble of establishing Cornelia as a habitual user of barbiturates—had, in fact, been introducing small amounts into her daily food or drink against the inevitable autopsy, he must have had a supply on hand. How quickly did drugs show up in the blood? If, for instance, Kincaid had said urgently to Cornelia over the phone, "Take something, quick . . ."

Her stomach, thoroughly emptied of pool water, would have been receptive to drugs, indeed. Warned by Kincaid, she would have been able to help herself to barbiturates from Philip's supply. The blood test, of course, would show that she had been drugged.
A little chilling, much more comforting for Margaret, that she would never know to what lengths Cornelia had gone to save herself before or after Philip's death.

Hilary was abroad early, a dedicated Florence Nightingale under Mrs. Snaith's admiring and uninitiated eye. She hovered in Margaret's bedroom, trying on her gloves, leaving only a faint smear of peanut butter on the back of one. She seemed untouched, Margaret thought wonderingly; the night had come and gone and left her just as she was.

Just then, by way of restoring the norm, Hilary knocked over a yellow-shaded lamp. She said without righting it, "She was a horrible woman, wasn't she?"
Hilary's infatuation with Mrs. Foale had withered.

Father-in-Law Charged in Death

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—A 34-year old Fort Smith man was found fatally shot Thursday, and his father-in-law later was charged in his death.
Bob Pafford died in a Fort Smith hospital after he was found wounded in his wrecked automobile. A shotgun was in the car.
Police said Pafford mumbled, "He shot me."
Prosecutor Lyman Mikel filed a charge of voluntary manslaughter against Herbert Douglas, 55, who was released on $1,000 bond for a preliminary hearing June 9.
Police said the shooting apparently occurred near Douglas' home and that Pafford drove from the scene before collapsing.
Douglas made no statement, but his attorney said a plea of self-defense would be entered at the hearing.

All In Your Point of View

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE
Dear Helen: I've mentally written you half a dozen letters which were never sent. But here is one that's going to you post haste. Your recent column on the mother who refused to let her 17-year-old daughter date an 18-year-old boy sent me into a tizzy.
That mother belongs in the Dark Ages. And your reply to her is the straw that broke the camel's back! You simply suggested well-chaperoned parties to which the poor boy might be invited. I go along with the chaperon but not the home dates.
I've got news for you: we are living in 1961, not 1861. I was 11 when my parents let me group date and 12 when I solo-dated. I am now 14. In striving to protect her daughter that benighted mother is doing more harm than good.
The girl will certainly break loose with a hell of a yell. The majority of young men and women in my school agree. —I. D. D. W., Warren, Ohio

Dear Helen: This is a warning to your readers who contemplate adopting children. Don't be over-sentimental. Let common sense, not emotion, guide you. Most adoptions work out satisfactorily but some do not, and these you seldom hear about.
We adopted a 4-year-old boy who had been sadly neglected and needed lots of special attention. Pity swayed us. We dedicated our lives to this child. He is now 12 and a delinquent. If he continues his wayward, irresponsible, selfish course, my husband and I will wind up in a mental hospital.
We've discussed the problem with the boy's teachers, our doctor, minister and various agencies but none have the answer. Since we adopted him, we alone are responsible for his misdeeds. Some of your readers may have been confronted with the same problem, if so, we could learn from them. Therefore, will you print

UN Operates the Best It Could Do

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Nations got a belting this year for what it did or failed to do. But it operated as any representative assembly could be expected to, including the American Congress.
From any adult and realistic view it couldn't be expected to please everybody all the time. On any given issue the 104 U.N. member nations voted unanimously or broke up into special interest — or selfish — groups to carry a point or try to block it for their own particular reasons.
And, from the viewpoint of its own special interests, this country had a lot to be satisfied with in the U.N. session which ended this week. Some examples of a representative group in action:
The Asian-African bloc stood together on racial and colonial issues but split on political ones. There were also neutral blocs, Communist blocs, Western blocs, each looking out for its own interests.
This could have been predicted without looking further than American history.
In Congress Southern Democrats down through the years formed a bloc — on civil rights, for instance — when they broke off from a majority of their party. On some other issues they voted solidly as party regulars.
And, carrying the example further, groups in both the Democratic and Republican parties, like liberals or conservatives, cross party lines to join their like-minded colleagues on a specific issue.
The U.N. could explode and fall apart for a number of reasons, but always depending on what the special interest alignments happen to be at any one moment. This country exploded in civil war once for that reason.
Nor would it be outside the American experience if one of more U.N. members refused to abide by a majority decision — as has been the case.
The American Senate, for instance, has jealously established and protected the privilege of any member or group of members to try to block the will of the majority by a filibuster.
But at least in Congress once the will of the majority has been established — by a final vote — those who disagree accept the result.
In the U.N., still only 16 years old, there have been rejections of the majority view which show either sheer wilfulness or immaturity, even on the part of old nations which by now should be grown up.
For example:
The U.N. banged into a financial crisis in the session which ended this week — it surmounted this by approving a $200-million bond issue — because some members would not pay their share of certain expenses.
The expenses were for U.N. operations against Katanga in the Congo and for the emergency force which the world set up in the Middle East after the Suez crisis of 1956.
The Communists, France, Belgium, Portugal, South Africa and most of the Arab states in one or both cases refused to pay their share.
The United States was sorely troubled when earlier this week the U.N. Security Council — thanks to a Soviet veto and the opposition of Egypt, Ceylon and Liberia — failed to rebuke India for attacking Portuguese Goa.
This country, because of its own view and interests, had a lot to be satisfied about in actions like these:
The U.N. overcame what looked for a while like a total wrecking operation — when the Soviet Union tried to create three secretaries-general instead of one — by appointing an acting secretary for another year and some months.
The U.N. refused to open the door to membership for Red China. It rebuked the Chinese communists for their treatment of the people of Tibet and the Soviet Union for its conduct in Hungary.
And, despite criticism even within the United States for using force to push secessionist Katanga Province back into the Republic of the Congo, the U.N. seems to have brought peace there, if only temporarily.
In addition, the United States and the Soviet Union were able to agree on laying the ground for

Refresh Your Soul Every Sabbath

Worship God In His Holy Sanctuary

His Natal Day

... it is Christmas, the birthday of Jesus the Christ.
It is Hallelujah time... a day when joyful reverence reigns in the hearts of His people. It is the hour for Carol singing and merry making in simple, serious celebration of the birthday of the Lord. Then, may your Yule-log burn brightly as you and yours jubilantly, in age-old custom, exchange gifts made possible through thought and treasure. Let us make merry but may we not forget to keep Christ in Christmas...

For unto us a child is born, and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty
God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.
